

EDI for SYSPRO Powered by TIE Kinetix

SOLUTION FACTSHEET

The manual, non-integrated, exchange of critical business information and documents with trading partners is an error prone and time-consuming task. By automating the integration and validation of orders, delivery notices, invoices, sales reports, and stock movements, companies can reduce costs while increasing efficiencies.

Add Measurable Value to Your Business

Integration adds measurable value to your business and contributes to higher productivity, reduced time to market, more sales at a lower cost, and reducing the significant costs associated with business-to-business integration.

Easily Automate Document Exchange

Doing business electronically using today's global corporate standards means being able to exchange information quickly and efficiently with sufficient processing power. EDI for SYSPRO Powered by TIE Kinetix makes exchanging documents electronically between SYSPRO and trading partners easy and hassle-free. For maximum performance and flexibility, we manage your entire IT infrastructure and integration service environment utilizing the latest in hardware, virtualization, and cloud-based technologies. With our team of experts and excellent customer service, you'll wonder why you ever wanted to manage it on your own in the first place.
